DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE DEATH OF IMPEACHMENT—SOUTHERN SENATORS AND NEW ARTICLES—THE PRESIDENT'S DEMEANOR AND VIEWS—CONGRATULATIONS ON ACQUITTAL—ADVICE FROM BISHOP SIMPSON.

No one well advised pretends, now, that there can be a conviction of the President upon any of the ten articles of impeachment remaining undisposed of. The eleventh article was selected by the advocates of impeachment as the one on which they could convict, if conviction could be had at all. It is conceded that there will be as many votes for acquittal on each of the remaining articles, and in some cases more than were yesterday cast for acquittal on the eleventh article, and therefore the President cannot be convicted, as the case stands in the Senate.

Among some extreme impeachers we yet hear threats of further articles when the new Southern Senators shall be admitted, to make a sure thing of a two-thirds vote for the removal of the President, but the more moderate and judicious Republicans deprecate these threats and refuse to countenance any further prosecution of the impeachment project after the articles now pending in the Senate shall be disposed of. It is not believed that a majority of the Republicans of either the Senate or House would agree to consider a proposition to get up new articles.

There were no very remarkable occurrences at the White House yesterday or extravagant demonstrations of a jubilant character. The President continued calmly pursuing the regular routine of his official labors during the day. He was advised promptly by brief dispatches from the capitol as the several votes were taken in the impeachment trial and knew the result within a few minutes after he had been acquitted on the eleventh article. Shortly after the impeachment court adjourned. Mr. Seward, Gov. Randall and a dozen or twenty friends of the President called to offer their congratulations. There were no excited demonstrations, but all passed off quietly.

Mr. Johnson informed his visitors that he did not regard the result of the day a personal victory, but he considered the verdict of the Senate a triumph of the Constitution and a just application of the law to the charges and testimony before the court.

The President did not receive visitors in the evening, but was present at Mr. Seward's usual Saturday night reception of the diplomatic corps.

The statements this morning that Chief Justice Chase called upon the President yesterday or last night, and that there was an impromptu levee at the White House, are without a shadow of foundation in fact. Chief Justice Chase has not been in the Executive Mansion for several months, and certainly not since the House adopted the impeachment resolution.

The House managers have subpoenaed a number of witnesses to appear before them to testify as to alleged improper influences used to affect the votes of Senators who voted for acquittal.

The friends of these Senators are pleased at the opportunity to go into this investigation, since the charges are made, and the President's friends express regret that the examination is to be had before a committee or board, composed entirely of impeachers. There should be some member of the examiners who is interested in having a thorough examination of all attempts to influence the action of Senators. A mere ex parte or one-sided investigation will fall very short of getting before the country a full expose of the disgraceful attempts to tamper with the verdict.

Whilst the doubt and anxiety existed on Friday night about the position of Senator Willey upon impeachment, Senator Harlan telegraphed Bishop Simpson, of Philadelphia, in these words: "I fear brother Willey is lost." To which the Bishop replied: "Brother Willey professes to be a christian. Brother Willey has a soul to be saved. He cannot barter away his soul and imperil the country. Pray with brother Willey;" and it is said brother Harlan prayed with brother Willey.

DATA.

COUNTING CHICKENS, &c.

Apropos of Wade, it is not generally known that he had made every arrangement to take possession of the White House on the 1st. proximo. His wife had expressed herself most unwilling to give President Johnson a fortnight's grace to make his exit, so anxious was she to assume the domestic [illegible] of her future greatness. Last Sunday night she positively declared it her intention to be "mistress of the White House" in less than two weeks, and to that end had invited two lady friends of your correspondent to dine with her on the day of her first reception. The first matrimonial spat that has occurred between old Wade and his wife for years came off on Sunday last, he persisting in the appointment, on his elevation to the Presidency, of a young lawyer from Zanesville, Ohio, to his private secretaryship, whilst the Madam was equally decided in her preference for a young nephew of her's.

Over six hundred and fifty letters, by actual count, passed through our post office here in one day—the 6th. instant—superscribed for Wade, and given to his messenger.

It is a certified fact that Wade had, with the assistance of his Radical supporters, nearly completed his full list of appointments for the various custom-houses and post-offices over the country, and had he succeeded in securing the Presidency, the present collectors and postmasters would then have felt the power of Radical wrath in their own removal.—Washington Letter in Baltimore Gazette.

MORE ABOUT IMPEACHMENT.

The eleventh article, the strongest of the whole lot, having failed, impeachment is considered virtually dead, and nothing remains but to hand over the stakes. A well known radical newspaper man of New York, proprietor of a sporting journal, who has spent much time here in urging conviction, has, it is authoritatively stated, lost $20,000. Other radical newspaper men of this city have lost sums ranging from $500 to $3,000, and in their despair are charging fraud and bribery upon all the radical Senators who voted for acquittal.

Fessenden, Grimes, Trumbull and Henderson are lost sight of now, and it is Mr. Ross who comes in for all the denunciation. Those who participated in the secret caucuses which have been held at the house of Senator Pomeroy assert positively that Mr. Ross pledged himself in writing to vote for the eleventh article, but this is denied by the friends of Mr. Ross. Even had Mr. Ross gone for the eleventh article it is not at all certain that it would have been carried, as it is stated authoritatively that in such an event one at least of those who did vote for it would have changed.

The meaning of this new adjournment, after all the talk about delay, will be made apparent in a few days. That some further schemes of villainy were concocted in the caucus on Friday night and yesterday morning is evident from the confident tone in which the impeachers aver that while impeachment is "gone up" they will yet get even with Andrew Johnson. No comment is necessary upon this or upon the other events of to-day. Andrew Johnson can well afford to ask the judgment of the people upon it all.—Cor. Balt. Sun.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.—We published in our last a notice for all the successful Conservative candidates in the late election falling under the disqualifying provisions of the Fourteenth Article, commonly known as the Howard Amendment, to forward their names without delay to R. C. Badger, Secretary of the State Executive Committee. We trust this matter will not be neglected. We should not take it for granted that Congress will do wrong in the premises. At least let us so act that the fault, if fault there be, will be upon their shoulders and not upon ours.

We certainly shall have no strength to spare in either House in the Legislature. We have barely enough to secure a call of the roll upon important votes—not enough, we fear, to watch, much less thwart or check, party rascality and political frauds. Those who have been honored by important trusts in this crisis by confiding and honorable constituents, should not by any neglect or fault of theirs defeat the choice of their people. All such as previous to the war took the oath to support the Constitution of the United States in an official capacity, should at once forward their names as directed, giving the particular instance or instances in which their case comes under the objections of the proposed amendment to the Constitution.—Wil. Journal.

THE YES-BUT GENERATION.

Bishop McTyeire found some of them in Texas—he writes:

The discontent of many of the inhabitants is profound, and would be strongly against the country if one did not consider the underlying cause. With certain persons, in the absence of some one good—nothing is good. One pines for an apple orchard; his wife can't have any preserves, as she used to. Another cannot forget the convenience of lightwood knots and spring water, and longs for a Carolina sand-bank where he can make five or six bushels of nubbin corn per acre. Some have more considerable objections. Here is the substance of a conversation with a well to do person:

"This is a great country you live in," said I.

"Yes, but it's so far to town for any wheres," was the reply.

"You have fine roads; I never saw their equal."

"Yes, but it's terrible traveling when it rains."

"I never saw better beef than yours."

"Yes, but people don't want to eat nothing but beef."

"Such a delightful climate—your health is good."

"Yes, but the Northers are awful on the constitution."

"Your land is rich; it produces so abundantly."

"Yes, but the grasshoppers have eat up my greens patch."

"Your hogs will fatten on the grasshoppers."

"Yes, but it worries 'em to death to catch the things."

"Your chickens are lively—they can catch 'em."

"Yes, but it makes their meat taste so, they say."

By this time there was a twinkle of humor in the turn things had taken, and I took leave—"Good by, my inconsolable friend—may you come to a more cheerful mind—good by, till we meet again."

"Yes, but we may never meet again in this world."

And I rather hope we won't. Deliver me from the yes-but generation—a people who love to be miserable, and who take pleasure in taking the other side against Providence.

The Bankrupt Act.

We have been requested to publish the Bankrupt Law. This is impossible. It makes a respectable volume. In order, however, that our readers may understand it, and may therefore not be liable to be imposed upon by parties, who are indifferent to the interests of others, we have taken some pains to compile from several sources the following general principles of the Act, for the benefit of all who contemplate seeking its benefits. But first of all, we advise our friends not to determine hastily what they will do, until they have had the counsel of a respectable and intelligent Attorney, upon whom they can rely.

1. The manifest design of the Bankrupt Law is to benefit honest, but unfortunate, debtors, whose just liabilities are greater than they can pay.

2. To become a voluntary bankrupt under this Act, the debtor must owe at least $300, which, of course, he is not able to pay in full.

3. Petitioners under the Bankrupt Act are required to render a schedule of all their debts and liabilities, of every kind and description whatever, and also an inventory of all their estate, both real and personal, including all property and effects of which they are possessed, or in which they may have an interest, (though not in possession) in conformity with certain "Forms" prescribed in the "General Orders" of the Supreme Court of the United States. These schedules, verified by the oath of the petitioner before a District Court Judge, Register in Bankruptcy, or U S Commissioner, must accompany the petition and, when filed, is the commencement of proceedings in Bankruptcy. If it should be found out, pending the proceedings at any time before the bankrupt is discharged, that he has, by any shift or subterfuge, made a false or partial schedule, this would be evidence of fraud and would defeat his discharge.

4. When the petition is by a firm or copartnership, a full set of schedules of the respective estates of the members of the firm should also be added.

5. When the petition is filed, the case is immediately referred to a Register, who examines the petition and schedules annexed thereto, and if they are correct in form, makes a certificate to that effect, to be filed with the Clerk, then adjudges the debtor a Bankrupt and issues a warrant to the messenger to summon all the creditors named in the petitioner's schedules to meet at the Register's office, at a certain time and place, to prove their claims and elect one or more Assignees to take charge of the Bankrupt's estate.

6. A creditor can, however, prove his claim at any time previous to the last dividend, which will generally be six months subsequent to the adjudication of Bankruptcy.

7. No creditor has any standing in a Bankrupt Court until he proves his claim.

8. Creditors have no right to compel the Bankrupt to answer questions concerning the disposal of property by him acquired subsequent to filing a petition in Bankruptcy. 'In other words, the date of the filing of the petition by or against a debtor, is the date at which, if adjudication of bankruptcy follows, the old order of things passes away and a new leaf is turned over.' On this point decisions have been variant. The safe rule appears to be, that the applicant in Bankruptcy has a perfect right to claim whatever he has made after his application, by his personal exertions, but any profits he may have made, from investment or credit, may be liable to the claim of the receiver up to almost the period of his discharge.

9. The Bankrupt can apply to the Court at any time after the expiration of six months, and within one year from the adjudication, for the discharge in bankruptcy, and in case no assets come into the hands of the assignee, or no debts be proved against his estate, at any time after the expiration of sixty days.

10. As soon as an Assignee is elected or appointed, the Judge or Register will convey to him, by deed of assignment, all the bankrupt's property except what is exempted, viz: "Household and kitchen furniture and other necessaries not exceeding in value ($500) five hundred dollars; also his wearing apparel and that of his wife and children, and such other property not included in the foregoing as is exempt from levy and sale upon execution or other process by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt resides, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by State exemption laws in force in 1864. A safe 'Counsellor suggests, under this head, that the common impression that persons may become bankrupts and yet be allowed to retain their houses and lands, or other property of considerable value, is a great mistake. Under the Act, no honest Bankrupt in this State can have allotted to him, free from the operation of the Act, exceeding $700, besides the wearing apparel of himself and family. Bankrupts in this State are not entitled to homesteads under this Act.

11. It is the duty of the assignee, within twenty days after the assignment to him is made, to allot to the bankrupt such articles as are exempted, and file an inventory of the same with the value of each article so allotted, and creditors may make objections to the report of the Assignee at any time within twenty days after it is filed.

12. As to costs in bankruptcy proceedings, section 46 of the Bankrupt Act provides that the petitioner, before a warrant issues, shall deposit fifty dollars with the Register, or with the Clerk, to be delivered to the Register as a security for his fees. General order XXIX provides that the fees of the Register, Marshal and Clerk shall be prepaid or secured before they can be compelled to act. It is also provided by General order XXX, that where the debtor has no means, and can prove the fact to the satisfaction of the Court, upon application, an order will be made requiring all the costs in the case to be paid out of the fifty dollars deposited with the Register. If, however, there are assets, but not enough to pay the Messenger after deducting the Bankrupt's exempted property, so that nothing comes into the hands of the Assignee, the fees will have to be paid by the Bankrupt; but if the Assignee receives assets, the fees of the Messenger will be paid by him before any dividend is made among creditors.

13. Some suppose that the Register is entitled to $50 fee. The fees of the Register, Messenger, Clerk, and costs of publication of notices in Bankruptcy, are fixed by law, and if they demand higher fees, they are liable, as in other cases of malfeasance in office. In ordinary cases of Bankruptcy, the fees may amount to $100. In some cases more, in some less—the costs depending on the amount of labor and litigation involved in each case.

14. Differences of opinion among Attorneys have existed in this State, as to the limit which the Act makes as to the time to make application in Bankruptcy. Some have supposed that no debtor will be permitted to apply for Bankruptcy after some early day in March, unless he is able to pay fifty per cent of his debts. We are assured that this is not the case. The law did not go into operation for the purposes for which it was enacted until June 1st, 1867. It gives twelve months from that time, to all honest debtors, whatever may be the extent of their indebtedness which they cannot pay in which to present their applications. After the 1st of June next, every debtor must be able to pay fifty per cent of his indebtedness in order to a successful application in bankruptcy, unless he first obtain the consent of a majority of his creditors.

STATE CO OPERATION ASSOCIATION.

We have urged the early formation of a State Co-operation Association, combining the intelligence, worth and working energy of the agricultural, mechanical, manufacturing and commercial people of the State. The object is to protect and promote, legitimately, the interest of every vocation, by a close combination for mutual help and the promotion of the general welfare of our own farmers, our own mechanics, our own manufacturers of all kinds, our own merchants and our own towns and cities.

This great design cannot be effected without a close association. The poverty of our people, in general, the unsettled character of labor and its unprofitableness, and the advantages possessed over us by the superior capital, skill and energy of other communities, can never be overcome and competed with, but by a combination of each and all of the great agencies of production, and the direction of the little capital we have, and the skill and enterprise of our people, by the highest intelligence and the largest experience.

The soil of the State, already open for cultivation, should be brought as soon as possible to the highest state of cultivation. Our plantations must be reduced to proper and more manageable dimensions—our forests must be more carefully preserved—our implements of husbandry must be of the best kind—our seeds and plans of cultivation must be improved; but all these will greatly depend upon a change of laborers and those who are skilled.

Our own mechanics and manufacturers must manufacture the raw material produced in the State, before we can be an independent people. Why should our cotton, tobacco, wheat, leather, tallow, beeswax, timber and lumber, iron, &c., be sent out of the State to be manufactured, to be returned to us in articles of necessity or luxury, with two freight charges, commissions, exchange and profits of manufacturers, agents and merchants piled on, to enhance the price to our people? Is it not manifest, that all these articles should be manufactured at home and the surplus sent abroad, to enhance the wealth of our own people? Suppose, for a time, it would cost our people more to manufacture these articles at home, yet that fact would increase the general value of our productions, and make our home market contribute to the wealth of the State. But all these articles can be produced cheaper at home. All we need is the improved machinery and apparatus which others possess, and of which they were as destitute formerly as we are. With the natural resources which we have for manufactures of every kind, and with the raw materials at our doors, can we not manufacture cheaper than those who must buy their materials from second or third hands, and whose natural advantages are no better than ours? We think there is nothing plainer.

And why should not our own merchants, in preference to others who are not immediately interested in the prosperity of the State, transact our entire commercial matters? Why should they not be encouraged in their efforts to build up our own towns and cities and extend our trade to foreign ports? Nor will it do to say we are too poor. Labor is wealth, and if the many will put their shoulders to the wheel, it can be done. Work is needed, and our young men must learn to hold the plow, or dig a ditch, or stock a plow or an axe, or drive the plane, or do what is needful. Our young men and young women must learn that honest labor is not derogatory to the intelligent, the refined and the virtuous.—Steady labor is one of the best promoters of sound morals and safeguards of virtue. Young men, who work steadily, systematically and cheerfully, are seldom decoyed into the fetid enclosures of a grog shop, houses of ill fame or into gambling hells. They learn to select their associations among the virtuous and the worthy and are seldom led off into vicious excesses. Household labor would give our young women vigorous frames and constitutions, make their cheeks red without paint, and fit them better for the task of rearing children and building up a country of strong, virtuous and industrious people.

All these things can be effected by the inauguration of Co-operation Associations in every Captain's district, auxiliary to the County Association, and one in every County, strictly auxiliary to the State Institution. We need a wise, strong head-institution, to lay down first principles and to inaugurate the best plans to secure skilled labor for our farms, to stimulate industry and enterprise in all vocations, to promote direct trade and encourage and regulate immigration of the right kind. Let the ball be put in motion. We shall be glad to see the people moving in the several counties.

* * *

THE SENATORSHIP.—We had supposed that the on dits had fixed the matter, that Mr. Pool and Gen. Abbott were to be the U. S. Senators, under the new regime, if it is to be a be. Within a few days, we have, however, learned that the friends of Col. Heaton are disposed to present his claims, and, on the other hand, it is intimated that the West can hardly agree to two Senators from the East. If so, Gen. Abbott and Col. Heaton may look out for breakers.—Mr. Pool and his friends will not yield his claims to their Yankee allies, and the West will very likely have a word to say in the matter.

* * *

Senator Henderson has received letters from strong Radicals applauding his course.

THE PURPOSE OF THE ADJOURNMENT—FUTURE ACTION FORESHADOWED—THE INFAMOUS RECOURSE RECOMENDED BY FORNEY.

Forney's Chronicle indicates the still lower depths of infamy to which the baffled conspirators are ready to descend. It says:

"In adjourning the high court of impeachment over until the 26th instant, the Senators have acted wisely. The attempt of the Chief Justice to rule the motion out of order, being only another move in his little game of political thimble rigging, was promptly overruled. Republicans are beginning to see through the wily Chief Justice, and his days of juggling are over.

It was eminently wise and proper, we say, to adjourn until the 26th, leaving the articles of impeachment undetermined and yet to be voted upon. This will prevent the White House criminal (already carrying the damning infamy of thirty-five votes for his conviction) from setting aside the reconstruction governments of the Southern States, and will compel the recusant Republicans either to vote for or against the admission of Arkansas, Louisiana, Florida, South Carolina, Georgia and North Carolina, in accordance with the terms prescribed by themselves. When these States are admitted, there will be added to the body of the Senate and to the High Court of Impeachment ten or twelve new Radical Senators. With such an accession of strength, there will be no difficulty in convicting and deposing Andrew Johnson."

The House of Representatives may, of course, if they can find matter for it, institute a new impeachment, but it must be limited to new charges Articles previously passed upon cannot be re-introduced, and it is universally conceded that it is impossible, as the Senate is at present constituted, to convict on any of the existing counts. Where can new articles be found? The House expended all its ingenuity in framing the present articles. Perhaps the Chronicle would have the "new Radical Senators" to vote upon them, without having heard an iota of the evidence! Such a suggestion is in entire keeping with the infamy of the man and the infamy of his party.

The condition of things prevailing at Washington just now is of so intricate and curious a character, that it is impossible to predict, with any approximation to certainty, what developments are to grow out of it. It is one of the decided possibilities that, in view of so infamous a purpose as that above foreshadowed in the extract from Forney's paper, (and which is, doubtless, a faithful reflection of the designs of the Jacobins,) the honest and conscientious Senators who defeated the Eleventh Article might sustain a veto and thus defeat the attempt to bring in these "new Radical Senators," elected without constitutional authority, by force of the military.

The telegraphic announcement that the Senate (Quere—the Judiciary Committee of the Senate?) has indefinitely postponed the Bill for the admission of Arkansas, would seem to lend coloring to this conjecture. Besides, supposing that these carpet-bag Senators should be admitted, it is hardly probable that the Chief Justice of the High Court of Impeachment would administer to them the jury oath to "hear and try impartially" the case,—when they have not heard the evidence, and when they are presented for the avowed and sole purpose of voting guilty, regardless of evidence. To do so, would be to convict himself of virtual "subornation of perjury."

* * *

POSSIBILITIES.

Arkansas, with its infamous, mongrel Constitution, it seems, is not to be admitted. We are, as yet, without the reasons, which have operated upon the Senate, or the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, in this matter. All that we know is that the bill for the admission of that negroized and carpet-bagized State was summarily rushed through the House, under the party lash, (a few Republicans, like Baker, of Illinois, refusing to swallow the nauseous dose,) and sent to the Senate, where, it is reported by telegraph, it has, in some way, received a quietus. Possibly, the suggestions of fraud in the alleged adoption of the Constitution may have caused the action of the Senate, though, heretofore, such considerations have not been supposed to be very operative with that body. Possibly it was the atrocious character of the Constitution itself which did the work. Except in the matter of franchise, it is not a whit more objectionable than that of North Carolina, if so much so. And possibly—oh! possibly—the Northern Radicals are not, after all, in a hurry to admit the "loil" Southern States, on account of a shivering apprehension that the most of them might, by some slip or other, vote for the Democratic nominee for the Presidency!

If this should be so, who can picture the lacerated "pheelinks" of the "trooly loil" in the South, who have just ridden on the backs of the negro into prospective office? Many bottles would not hold their tears.

Who knows but that the other possibility, for which the telegraph was reponsible on yesterday, that the Southern delegates may not be admitted into the Chicago Convention, is a foreshadowing of what is to be?

After eating mountains of dirt, deserting their race and color, black-washing themselves all over, and covering themselves with shame and humiliation as a garment, really for the sake of the offices, but ostensibly in the interests of "Loyalty," to have the cold shoulder turned upon the Southern Loyalists,"—this would be the "most unkindest cut" in all history.

Again, possibly the new organization which is said to be in process of formation at Washington, with the seven honest Senators as a nucleus, may have something to do with the present rather strange and mixed aspect of affairs at the National Capital, which causes the precious and exclusive patriots of the South so much concern and alarm.

* * *

A CROMWELL ON A SMALL SCALE.—Have we at last found a Cromwell? Governor Holden, of North Carolina, in a dispatch of the 14th instant, over his own signature, says: "Strike the usurper from his seat."—We suppose the next we shall hear of Holden is that, following the example of his Puritan protoype, he has taken the broom, gone into the White House, swept everything before him, locked the door, and carried home the keys.—Balt. Sun.

DEWEESE ON THE SITUATION.

After the nomination of the Radical candidate for Mayor, in Washington City, a ratification meeting was held, at which several speeches were made. The following, clipped from the Washington National Republican, gives an account of a speech made by Deweese, the carpet bag member of Congress from this District:

"Hon. Mr. Deweese, of North Carolina, was next introduced, and spoke at length of the success of the Republican party in North Carolina, and what they had to contend with—the broken down aristocracy. He warned his hearers to keep their eyes on all who voted, for, after the election, if the Republican party should be defeated, the colored man will be treated as he is in the South. If any man was to be despised it was a traitor to his party, and he doubted not that some such would be found after the election, who would declare they stood by the party. Should the verdict of "not guilty" be rendered to morrow in the Senate, in less than one month the rattling drum and shrill fife will be heard in the streets, and armies will be seen marching to the battle field. He was told if he made one of his bitter Radical speeches at the meeting to-night, his State, (North Carolina,) would not be admitted into the Union by the vote of the Senate next week; but he replied, "keep her out if you will, but keep her out if you dare."

Mr. Deweese referred at length to the impeachment question, and said Mr. Johnson must be convicted, or a war of races would be inaugurated in the South, brought about by the defeat of Republicanism, in the acquittal of Mr. Johnson. He proposed, as soon as he got his seat in Congress, that no Democrat should marry in a Republican family, for fear he would cross the breed.—Mr. D. told a number of anecdotes, and created much merriment by his allusion to the mixed colors of the South, in which it was hard to tell whether the children were black or colored."

The above is a fit postscript to the telegram of Mr. Holden, published in the Sentinel, on yesterday. It is of the same type, and no doubt was evolved from the same source.

Deweese is perhaps a fit representative of the sentiment and feeling of the scallawags and negroes with whom he is affiliated, but he knows nothing of the views and purposes of the intelligence and worth among the white people of this District or State, whom he is ready to misrepresent before he takes his seat in Congress. The attacks of such men upon President Johnson may pass as the idle wind. No one can be impressed by the abuse of such men, nor are we concerned about the reiteration of the disasters which are to befal the country, predicted by ill tempered Radicals, if President Johnson is not impeached.

Deweese is, perhaps, one of the elect, whose office seems to be to put down the "broken down aristocracy," in order to put on top the scallawags and scape-graces of the country. Whether he and his clique will succeed, is a problem yet to be settled. But what concerns us most in Deweese's speech is the repetition of the threat of civil war in the South, made by Mr. Holden's telegram. He is represented as saying: "Mr. Johnson must be convicted, or a war of races would be inaugurated in the South, brought about by the defeat of Republicanism, in the acquittal of Mr. Johnson." Then we are to understand, (for this is the plain inference from the language employed,) that if Mr. Johnson is acquitted, civil war, or a war of races, is to be inaugurated by the Republicans in the South!—The people of the South, and of North Carolina, are here forewarned, that the Republican party will oust Mr. Johnson, or they will inaugurate civil war or a war of races in the South, in order to maintain their political ascendancy! Is this the game? Is this the programme of that horde of disaffected, violent and unprincipled men, called "Southern loyalists?" We ask the special attention of Gen. Canby to such incendiary speeches, made by professed loyal men belonging to his Military District. We simply regard them as the ebullitions of weak and cowardly Jacobins, who hope to continue to frighten the timid, as they have already done, to their support.

We deny that the Conservatives of the South have any other aims but those of peace and quiet. If civil war, or a war of races, should be inaugurated in the South, we are sure it would never originate with the Conservative people; nor do we believe it would originate with the blacks, without urgent promptings and assurances of success by scallawag "Southern Loyalists". But we cannot say that we feel alarmed at the efforts of such a set to bring it about.

* * *

HOLDEN'S TELEGRAM.—We are confirmed in the opinion that Mr. Holden's Impeachment telegram, which we commented upon on yesterday, was only intended to be private, for the reason that he could have not expected any Republican Senators, who would vote for acquittal, to favor the removal of his disabilities, after such a public reflection upon their integrity and honor.

The Senate has not yet voted upon the bill, which has passed the House, removing the disabilities from certain North Carolinians—among them Mr. Holden. Possibly the bill will share the fate of the Arkansas bill. At all events, Mr. Holden cannot, of course, expect Messrs. Fessenden, Trumbull, Henderson, Ross, Van Winkle, Grimes and Fowler to vote for his relief, after that telegram. Without their votes, where are the two-thirds necessary for the removal of his disabilities?

* * *

THE NEW PLOT.—It is rumored that the Senate may admit as many new members as they please, but not a mother's son of them will be sworn in as a member of the Court by Chief Justice Chase! I am encouraged to believe, further, that if a new impeachment is essayed, and fourteen new Senators are admitted, as threatened by Stokes in his Friday night's speech, to insure conviction, at least seven old Senators who voted to convict Mr. Johnson on the eleventh article will be found in opposition to the new articles.—Wash. Letter—Balt. Gazette.

* * *

A Pennsylvania paper says that at the close of one of the recent fierce debates in Congress, Judge Woodward approached Judge Schofield and said: "I expect to live to see this Government fall to pieces."

An Illinois paper estimates that the expenses of the United States government last year were a little over $1,000 a minute.

GENERAL CANBY'S ORDER.

General Orders No. 84, from the Head Quarters of this Military District, have just been issued by General Canby, in which he announces the names of all persons elected to the several offices in the State in the late election

There is a portion of the order which will not be very gratifying to many of those who have manifested such excessive anxiety to get into office.

Gen. Canby says, "the officers elect, both of the legislative and executive departments, will, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of their offices, take and subscribe the oath of office prescribed by the law of July 2, 1862, to prescribe an oath of office and for other purposes."

Such officers, as are not able to take said oath, will not be allowed to discharge any official functions, until their disabilities have been removed by the Congress of the United States, or unless the oath of office required by law shall have been dispensed with, or until the State shall be declared entitled to representation, &c.

If only their disabilities shall be removed, how can many of them take the "test oath?" This requisition will prevent many of the State officers from entering upon their duties until the State is admitted to representation, and must prevent a quorum of the Legislature from taking their seats upon the approval of the Constitution, by Congress.—We shall publish a portion of the order tomorrow.

New Advertisements.—Scythes, Hoes, Tubs and Buckets: G. T. & W. C. Stronach. Flour, Stock Peas, Snuff, &c: G. T. & W. C. Stronach.

Raleigh and Gaston Railroad.—By reference to the advertisement in another column, it will be seen that a new schedule went into operation on this Road on yesterday. Hereafter the Passenger and Mail Train leaves Raleigh at 9 15 A. M., and the Freight Train leaves at 1.15 P. M.

Arrival.—Gen. H. B. Clitz, the new Commander of this Post, and his Adjutant, Lt. D. R. Anderson, arrived in this city, on yesterday morning, from Charleston.—They are stopping at the Exchange Hotel, for the present.

H. O. A's.—We learn that the H. O. A's. have been in session. Several of the faithful from other points have been here, we presume in attendance. Mr. Lassiter, Dr. Grissom, Mr. Cantwell, and others, we have seen on the streets.

Cold Weather.—The cold North-east winds have prevailed frequently this season, seriously putting back the crops and gardens. We are apprehensive that the growing wheat crop, so generally spoken of as very fine in the State, will be seriously damaged. We hope for the best. It would be a sad misfortune, in our present condition, if the wheat crop should be cut short.

This is the 21st, of May, and the weather reminds us of the gloomy days of November and is cold enough to make a good fire a necessity. Our gardens are generally backward.

Circus.—We are requested to state that Mr. A. Robinson's Circus will be here in two or three weeks.

Sergeant Bates has been asked to undertake a trip through New England, which, however, he promptly declined on grounds of being extremely hazardous to life and property. The proposition is that the Sergeant shall undertake a trip through all the New England States (except Connecticut,) carrying the flag, and to start on the journey without money, and in all other respects the same as he did in his late tour through the South. The soldier gives the following reasons why such an undertaking would be a risk: First—To undertake a journey through the New England States without money is equivalent to starvation. Second—To travel through that region with money he ran a great risk of being robbed on the way.

Bishop Beckwith, of Georgia, must be a very popular man in his diocese. Four cities, Athens, Atlanta, Augusta and Savannah, compete for the honor of his society, as a permanent resident, each offering him an elegant mansion. Savannah, however, backs her offer with an intimation that she will give him a handsome addition to his salary.

To morrow may never come to us. We do not live in to-morrow. We cannot find it in our title-deeds. The man who owns whole blocks of real estate, and great ships on the sea, does not own a single minute of to-morrow. To morrow! It is a mysterious possibility, not yet born. It lies under the seal of midnight—behind the vail of glistening constellations.—[Chapin.

The best men are not those who have waited for chances, but taken them—besieged the above, conquered the chance, and made the chance their servitor.—[Chapin.

STATE ITEMS.

For months past, a systematic robbery of the mails has been going on between Newbern and Washington City, and the Detectives have at last caught a fellow named Lee, Mail Agent on that route, who has been taken to Washington and placed in confinement. He was detected opening letters and arrested after being seen to open fourteen.

The National Republican, a Radical paper published in Washington, noticing the election of carpet bag French to Congress from the Edenton District, speaks of him as one of the original Freesoilers of New Hampshire. This is about as we expected. We felt sure that he was one of Jno. Brown's disciples.

Bishop Atkinson will administer the rite of Confirmation in both St. James' and St. John's Parishes, in Wilmington, early in June.

The Editor of the Goldsboro' News returns his acknowledgments to a friend for a mess of new crop Irish Potatoes. He actually complains, however, that they were not cooked before they were sent. This is only equalled by the "Tar-Heel," in the Valley, during the war, who, after having been without rations for a couple of days, approached a mansion on the road side and asked for something to eat. Upon being tendered a tempting piece of loaf bread, he indignantly refused it because it wasn't buttered!

A. J. Amos is transferred from the route between Selma and Meridien, Ala., to the cars between Washington and Weldon, and designated as a postal clerk, with pay at the rate of $1000 per annum, vice W. J. Lee, removed and arrested for mail robbery.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Kehoe has left Newbern for Albany, with three prisoners, who were sentenced to the Penitentiary at the last term of the District Court,—two of them for three years and one for two years.

The Wilmington Star gives the following account of an important trial at Cumberland Superior Court, last week:

"Some time during the year 1866, the Legislature passed a law both instructing and authorizing the Solicitor of the 5th Circuit to file an information in the nature of a quo warranto against the Cape Fear Navigation Company—an old corporation first established in 1796 and continued by subsequent acts of the Legislature—to show cause why they should not forfeit their Charter.

The information was filed a year ago, and the case came up for trial during the session of the Superior Court last week. Able counsel, whose names we shall give presently, appeared on either side, and the trial occupied from Wednesday morning to Friday night, when the charge of the court was delivered. The jury, after remaining in their room all night, came out Saturday morning and stated that it was impossible to agree on a verdict; consequently a juror was withdrawn and a mistrial made, which involves the necessity of another trial. The charge against the Company is that they have forfeited their charter both by non-user and by mis-user, and the speeches of the counsel, we are told, drew considerably from the musty tomes of the English Common Law for material for their arguments. The various steamboat lines on the river have refused to pay tolls until the right of the Company to continue its operations is determined.

Neill McKay, Esq., Solicitor for the State, was assisted by Messrs. H. & A. M. Waddell, of this city, and Messrs. B. & T. C. Fuller, of Fayetteville.

On behalf of the Company appeared Hon. Jesse G. Shepherd, Col. Robert Strange, of this city, and J. C. Dobbin, Esq."

HOUSE vs. SENATE.

The debate in the Senate on the House resolution calling for the proceedings of the Senate on the last two days of the impeachment trial was interesting. Mr. Buckalew, and Mr. Dixon, and Mr. Doolittle did not seem to admire the action of the House, and Mr. Conkling (Radical) spoke with manly indignation of the filthy abuse heaped upon Senators, which, he intimated, was the product of party heat and a licentious spirit. The impeachers affected to believe that there was no connection between the copy called for and the star-chamber inquisition under Mr. Bingham's management; but several were anxious that inquiry should go. None of them, save by very remote implication, endorsed these wretched calumnies, and as for the Senators whose names have been made the target for special abuse, they, says the National Intelligencer, sat as unconcerned and contemptuous, apparently, as if it were only some new born fly buzzing about the room and trying to excite attention.

Mr. Davis spoke of Sumner as follows:

"During the debate on the adoption of the Constitution of the United States it was proposed that the President be tried on impeachment by the Supreme Court. Suppose that was the practice now, and that the Chief Justice had declared in advance, that the President was guilty, and had, besides, denounced him as a member of this court did; he would ask the Senate whether the Chief Justice would be tolerated for a moment for his indecent and outrageous conduct? The impeachment of the Chief Justice himself in such a case would be demanded. If ever a member of a court merited impeachment and the condemnation and scorn of the world, it would be the Chief Justice so acting and expressing himself. He (Mr. Davis) could see no difference between that culpable and execrable conduct of the Chief Justice and that of the denunciations of the President by the Senator from Massachusetts. He thought the Senator (Mr. Sumner) deserved richly, and ought to receive, the sentence of expulsion from the Senate of the United States."

Without coming to a vote the Senate adjourned.

Chief Justice Chase and the Presidency.—The stories about Chief Justice Chase and the Presidency are finally coming into some tangible shape. He has formally put himself into the hands of his friends, and said that, while he is not a candidate, he cannot object to the use of his name, and will run if nominated by the Conservatives. The movement in his behalf seems to originate in Philadelphia.

Democrats.—There is a host of Democratic politicians in the city, and the hotels are lively with them. Yesterday, at the Fifth Avenue hotel, there was an active canvassing of the claims of Hancock and Pendleton. Delegates to the Fourth of July Convention are already arriving, and it looks as if they proposed to keep the fight up on this line if it takes all summer.—New York Commercial.

Correspondence of the N. Y. World.

GEN. GRANT AND THE CHICAGO CONVENTION—RUMORED WITHDRAWAL OF GRANT.

Washington, May 17.

I have been informed to-day at different times, by two gentlemen who profess to be acquainted with Gen. Grant, that the General has written a letter and placed it in the hands of a friend, who is to be present at the Chicago Convention, distinctly declining to have his name used in that Convention. In fact, it is said that General Grant has decided not to be a candidate of the Republican party for the Presidency, except upon certain conditions, which the Radicals are not expected to consent to.—The principal condition is reported to be that wholesale negro suffrage shall not be made one of the planks of its platform.—George Washington Dent, the General's brother-in-law, is also reported to have said to a friend within the last three days, that if he could be a delegate to the Convention he would vote against Grant himself, on the ground that he don't want to see Grant mixed up in politics, and on the ground that Grant himself don't want to be mixed up in them. The General, in conversation with an old Western friend, less than a fortnight ago, said that he had now got the position that was most acceptable to him, and that he did not want anything else. Gen. Grant's distrust of politics and politicians is said to have been recently disclosed in another way. It was proposed in Congress to retire Gen. Rousseau and one or two other officers, the animus of the proposition being partisan. When the news of this intention was brought to General Grant, he is said to have exclaimed somewhat as follows: "Well, if these officers are to be disposed of in this manner upon political grounds merely, every one of us in the army may as well prepare for the consequence of an idea in Congress, mistaken or otherwise, of our political identity; it is a bad precedent to establish."

THE ALLEGED DEFALCATION BY FORNEY—CAMERON AFTER THE TRAVELLER.

Washington, May 17.

There is a sibilant rumor in town that Forney, who recently decamped for Chicago, got a telegram yesterday, and will get a verbal message to-morrow, or next day, from an individual sent on for the purpose, advising that it will be well for him to return to the Capital forthwith. Senator Cameron, who called the attention of the Senate to Forney's little deficiency, is not, if this rumor can be trusted, disposed to let the editor of "my two papers, both daily" off without a further, explicit, and speedy examination.

Thad. Stevens capped the climax of blasphemy in a speech made a few days ago, by saying that "Andrew Johnson's treason to the party that elected him is baser than the betrayal of Judas Iscariot, who betrayed only a single individual."

What blasphemy equals that? And yet this vile old hoary headed reprobate is the head of the radical party. It is this man who holds in his hand the destinies and doings of his party. He is the great earthly god of this mammon and time serving political creed, and it is in the hands of this party, led by this incarnate old fiend, that the liberties and rights of a nation are entrusted. More than this, the dwellers in a section of his country are the powerless subjects of his wrath. Will God, in His justice and His purity, permit the acts of this horrible old blasphemer to be operative and permanent? We think not.

Portland in Honor of Senator Fessenden.—An immense open air citizens' meeting was held here Saturday evening, to honor Senator Fessenden, at which John Neal presided and a large number of prominent citizens served as Vice Presidents.—Speeches were made by L. D. M. Sweat, F. O. J. Smith, T. H. Hubbard, General S. J. Anderson and Wm. H. Clifford. The speeches were not of a partisan character, but condemned in unmeasured terms the attempt to intimidate Mr. Fessenden by the impeachment meetings held in Maine and eulogistic of the Senator and his conduct.

The resolutions framed were in the name of the citizens of Portland. They condemn the spirit which would compel the Court of Impeachment to adjudicate upon the impeachment articles in such manner as the exigencies of a political party may require, the zeal of party animosity would dictate or the ambition of political aspirants would demand. They denounce attempts to force Senators to any decision inconsistent with the obligations which the Constitution imposes, as revolutionary and criminal in spirit, and as deserving the sharpest rebuke from all supporters of constitutional government and liberty.

Interesting Correspondence by Telegraph.—Leavenworth, May 14.—Kansas has heard the evidence, and demands the conviction of the President. Signed D. R. Anthony and 1,000 others.

To the above Senator Ross sent the following reply:

Washington, May 16.—Gentlemen, I do not recognize your right to demand that I shall vote either for or against conviction. I have taken an oath to do impartial justice according to the Constitution and laws, and trust I shall have the courage and honesty to vote according to the dictates of my judgment and for the highest good of my country.

(Signed) E. G. Ross.

Georgia Politics.—From reliable sources it is now understood that the Georgia Legislature will be composed of three parties—Radicals, Democrats and Conservative Independents. The latter hold the balance of power and their proclivities so far are decidedly Democratic.

Mr. Gordon and U. S. Attorney Fitch will probably receive the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senators.

The President received on Saturday and yesterday a large number of dispatches from all parts of the country congratulating him on his acquittal.—National Intelligencer, 18th.

THE WEEKLY SUN.

THE CIRCULATION OF THE "WEEKLY SUN" always very large, has of late so increased that it may be called universal. It is shedding its light for all, in all sections—North, East, South and West. Its intercourse with the South which was necessarily interrupted during the war, has been again resumed, and the evidences of public appreciation from that quarter are multiplying every day. When honest efforts are put forth, as in the "Weekly Sun," to meet the demand for a reliable weekly record of events and an entertaining vehicle of light literature, which, while it instructs and pleases, aims to promote virtue as well as intelligence and to exclude every line of an impure and immoral tendency, it is cheering to receive such evidences of public appreciation as are coming to us from all parts of the country.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

The "Weekly Sun" is published every Saturday at the following exceedingly low rates to individuals and clubs when sent from one Post Office. The money, in all cases, to be remitted in advance.

For one copy for one year	$1 50

Club of twelve copies one year	15 00
Club of fifteen copies, one year	18 00

DAILY SENTINEL.

THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1868.

THE VALE OF TEARS.

My harp is broken, and my lyre unstrung;
My years have fled—my hopes in sackcloth hung;
And earth is palled in sadness and its bloom
Is but the flower that blossoms o'er the tomb.

Bright was my morning, and my sparkling veins
Beat high with rapture; but the incessant pains
Of fourscore years have racked this feeble frame,
'Till few my joys, and dim life's glimmering flame.

Oh! I was happy in the fond embrace
Of friends and kindred; but I scarce can trace
The wreck of those I loved, as low they sleep
In the lone land, where "living statues weep."

Seat of my youth now mouldering in decay!
The night-bird chants his wild, unearthly lay
In thy dark cloisters; and the mist of years
Has veil'd thy walls in darkness, dust and tears.

Yet thou art lovely, e'en in thy decline,
Though round thy walls the ivy wreaths entwine,
And lovelier still the mossy pile shall be,
'Till these cold limbs repose at last with thee.

ON A ROMAN NOSE.

"Knows he, who never took a pinch,
Nosey! the pleasure thence which flows?
Knows he the titillating joys,
Which my nose knows?

Oh nose! I am as proud of thee,
As any mountain of its snows:
I gaze on thee, and feel that joy—
A Roman knows."—(A CROWQUILL.)

"Our tree of liberty was a beautiful tree—a splendid tree—it was a sight to look at; it was fenced and well protected, and it grew so stately and so handsome, that strangers came from all parts of the world to see it. They all allowed it was the most splendid thing in the world. Well, the —— have broken in and torn down the fences, and snapped off the branches, and scattered all the leaves about, and it looks no better than a gallows tree."—Sam. Slick.

"Politics makes a man as crooked as a pack does a pedlar, not that they are so awful heavy, neither; but it teaches a man to stoop in the long run."—Ibid.

LAUGHTER.—Laughter is not a foolish thing; sometimes there is even wisdom in it. Soloman himself admits there is a time to laugh as well as a time to mourn. Man only laughs—man, the highest organized being; and hence the definition that has been proposed of him, a "laughing animal." Certainly it defines him as well as a "cooking animal," a "tool-making animal," a "money-making animal," a "political animal," or such like. Laughter very often shows the bright side of a man. It brings out his happier nature, and shows of what sort of stuff he is really made. Somehow we feel as if we never thoroughly know a man until we hear him laugh. The solemn sober visage, like a Sunday's dress, tells nothing of the real man. He may be very silly, or very profound; very cross, or very jolly. Let us hear him laugh, and we can decipher him at once and tell how his heart beats. We are disposed to suspect the man who never laughs. At all events, there is a repulsion about him which we cannot get over. Lavater says, "Shun the man who never laughs, who dislikes music or the glad face of a child." This is what everybody feels, and none more than children, who are quick at reading characters, and their strong instinct rarely deceives them.

HOW MR. GOLHE BROKE HIS PONY.—Shon, you reckermemper dat lettle plack boney I played mit de bedler next week?

"Yah, vot of him?"

"Notings, only I gets sheated burdy pad."

"So!"

"Yah! You see in the vurst blace he is plint mit both legs, and wery lame in von eye. Den ven you gets on him to rite he rears up behint and keeks up before so verser as a shack mule. I dinks I dake him a little rite yesterday, und so sooner as I gits straddle his pack be gommence dat vay, shoost so like a valkin peam on a shteampoat; und ven he gits done, I vas so mixed up mit every dinks, I finds mineself sitting around packyards mit his dail in mine hants vor de pridle."

"Vel, vot you going to do mit him?"

"Oh, I vixed him sham up. I hitch him to de cart mit his tail vere his heat out to be—den I giv him about so tozen cuts mit a gow hite, he shtarte to go, put so soon he see de cart pefore him he make packwards. Burty soon he shumps pehint, und sits down on his haunches, and looks like he veel burty shamed mit himself. Den I dakes him out und hitch him de right vay, und den off shoost so good as anybody's bony."

A writer in Putnam is greatly exercised concerning the manner in which the interesting female of our period wears her hair and her hat. He expresses the following comical considerations in this regard:

Her head has troubled me a good deal.—Last winter she had an affair at right angles to the back of her neck. I used to think—for I couldn't help watching it—supposing that affair weighed half a pound more, where would the center of gravity be?—Last summer she was gotten up on the principle of a nine-pin. I can't draw, but of course you have seen the pattern. Then a little dish she had on her head, in front of the knob, sloped forward very much, like the slanting leg of a figure of four trap, and —I know it was outrageous, but one can't always control one's fancies—all the time I should have been repeating the responses, I kept saying to myself:

Suppose it should fall on her nose?
Suppose it should fall on her nose?
Suppose it should fall on her nose?
Suppose it should fall on her nose?

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whom it is made, may stamp it before it is used; and if used after the 30th of July, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot afterwards be effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument, to appropriately stamp it, renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrants, publication, &c., in which case these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original process.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and is subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits of legal proceedings.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any printed or written evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at any time designated, are subject to stamp duty as Promissory Notes.

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage, at time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps, denoting a duty of five cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamps to which this instrument is liable, under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by one of the parties.

In conveyance of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required, and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rates required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

William E. Pell, } Editors.
Seaton Gales, }

In view of the scarcity of money, and the severity of the times, the Proprietor of the SENTINEL has determined to reduce the terms of the paper, to commence after the 31st. DECEMBER, next, and to make such improvements in its general character as will commend it to the patronage of an enlightened public.

In POLITICS it will be thoroughly Conservative, advocating, at all times:

A strict observance of the Constitution of the United States, and the harmonious Union of equal States;

Obedience to law and the enforcement of order;

The supremacy of the civil over the military, in time of peace;

The equality of the three co-ordinate branches of the government;

The sovereignty of the States over their own internal affairs, in strict conformity to the Constitution;

The maintenance of freedom and justice to all, without distinction of color, but the supremacy of the white race as the governing class;

Opposition to Radicalism in all its phases.

As a NEWS journal, it shall be equal to any.—

The principal markets will be regularly published.

Its LITERARY character shall be maintained and improved, by contributions from our best writers.

Finally, the SENTINEL will seek to be the special promoter of the educational, moral and economical interests of the people of North Carolina.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE OFFICIAL HISTORY
OF THE WAR,
ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL PARTIES.

THIS GREAT WORK PRESENTS THE ONLY complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr Stephens, from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire everywhere manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One Agent in Easton, Pa., reports 72 subscribers in three days.

One in Boston, Mass., 103 subscribers in four days.

One in Memphis, Tenn., 106 subscribers in five days
